Having Accepted employment A Lawyer should act with Competence Commitment and dedication to the interest of the client and with zeal in advocacy upon the clients behalf. A Lawyer should feel a moral or professional obligation to pursue a matter on behalf of a client with reasonable diligence and promptness despite opposition, obstruction or personal inconvenience to the lawyer. A Lawyer workload should be controlled so that each matter can be handled with diligence and competence. As provided and incompetent Lawyer is subject of discipline.

Neglect

No professional shortcoming is more widely resented than Procrastination. A client interest of can be adversely affected by the passage or the change of condition in extreme instances as when a Lawyer overlook a statute of limitations, the client legal position may be destroyed. A Lawyer is subject to professional discipline for neglecting or particular legal matter as well as for frequent failures to carry out fully the obligations owed to one or more clients.

Because delay can cause client needless anxiety and undermine confidence in a Lawyer trust worthiness, there is a duty to communicate reasonably with clients (sec.) Rule 1.03

A Lawyer shall abide by a client decision:
